Lower Ridge Road Corridor Study

CODE	VALUE
9345530 Anon	Good presentation and long term planning. If you really want to start to solve some problems, make the TND overlay the normal code and allow the current "everywhere USA" zoning only by exception.
9346848 J. Pat Davis	good tool.
9527282 Mary Hobbs	I do not live on lower ridge but up on the ridge but I hate to see anyone loose their home to progress. The hill cutting is disasterous and just about anything to hide what has happened would be welcome. The left turning on to 65 is too dangerous and the idea of straightening Lower Ridge beside the old Hardee's is a great idea. This would allow everyone to have a light and to go left or right, without much danger onto 65. I agree about widening Lower Ridge but 2 lanes and a turn lane plus a bicycle lane would be ideal. As time goes on, sidewalks may be useful depending on the progress for the area but again if I lived on the road, I would have to object to taking a big easement from my property. Perhaps there is a compromize there somewhere. There is a difinate need for better roads and 65 access and I believe with the session last evening (6/17/08) there were some good ideas. Thank you for allowing our opinions and we can only hope with our input that the best solution will be made.
9638617 Vickie Rogers	The biggest problem is access to Highway 65 and the shopping center. That is an area that would be wonderful for shopping on this side of town since we do not have a grocery store on this side of town. I would like to see attractive shopping areas and not strip malls and fast food stores go up in this area. The sports center seems like it would attract family oriented businesses to this area. We enjoy living in this area and are looking forward to improvements in the access to other parts of Conway.
9736420 Kim Tyler	Good representation of "things that could happen" in the future of LRR. Would like to see the hill area (north of LRR) be addresses immediately. The US Highway 65 area is another area of priority. Perhaps Conway Towne Center and the City of Conway could work together and seek a positive solution.
